SYSTEM ENTRY DATE OVERRIDE

- Leave blank for normal PPP742 processing. (When the SYSTEM ENTRY DATE OVERRIDE is blank, PPP742 will assign System Entry Dates from individual Employee Change File records.)
- Enter a date value to be placed on HDB entries for special PPP742 processing. See CAUTION, below.

SYSTEM ENTRY TIME OVERRIDE

- Leave blank for normal PPP742 processing. (When the SYSTEM ENTRY TIME OVERRIDE is blank, PPP742 will assign System Entry Times from individual Employee Change File records.)
- Enter a time value to be placed on HDB entries for special PPP742 processing. See CAUTION, below.

NOTE: If a System Entry Time Override value is entered, and System Entry Date Override is blank, PPP742 will assign both System Entry Date and System Entry Time from individual Employee Change File Records.

HDB AUDIT

Enter "Y" to audit ECF records for consistency against the HDB. (Default: when blank - no such audit will occur.)

EDB AUDIT

Enter "Y" to audit ECF records for consistency against the EDB. (Default: when blank - no such audit will occur.)

CAUTION

Use of the SYSTEM ENTRY DATE OVERRIDE and/or the SYSTEM ENTRY TIME OVERRIDE is intended for processing outside the normal sequence of HDB data capture. The primary purpose of these overrides is to force a specific System Entry Date/Time stamp onto HDB entries made by PPP742.

Use of either of these two overrides should be undertaken with extreme caution as HDB indexes and/or data can easily be corrupted by running PPP742 with an override which causes insertion of HDB entries for a date/time which falls between two date/times already recorded on the HDB. It is recommended that a thorough review of HDB data be conducted both before and after running PPP742 with either System Entry Date or System Entry Time overrides.
